This Yearbook '80 was put together to capture and retain events, activities and experiences that were shared by you during the year. We hope this Yearbook will act as a time machine by taking you back to the memories when you were here at Lyndon State College. With this book to assist you, you will remember some of the classes, parties, games, clubs, and events that made it what it was — a part of our lives. Take a few minutes, get comfortable, and reminisce. . . .

SIGMA PSI FRATERNITY, Alpha Chapter of Lyndon State College, is a non-exclusive social organization of young men designed for the advancement of social activities benefitting the entire college campus. Our objectives are to help the college community socially, physically, and spiritually in hopes of creating a fine fun loving learning institution. Our personal goals are to strive for social unity, trust, respect, responsibility, and understanding amongst each other. We would also like to sincerely thank our camera shy advisor and beloved friend Mr. Edmund Mello, for helping us through a very prosperous and enjoyable growth year.

The rise in the success of LSC's Basketball program has paralleled with a rise in spirit and interest among the college's general population.

Accompanying this general interest in the sport of basketball is an interest in organized Cheerleading. In 1978, Joanne McCormick took the initiative of this project and began the procedures in forming the Cheerleading organization.

Through the help of Community Council, the Cheerleading Organization became official and was allocated initial funding to get things under way.

Dream number two was answered for Lyndon State Rescue last fall. At the completion of a year-long fund drive, a new modular-type ambulance was delivered on October 12, 1979. The squad would again like to thank the people in the eight towns that we cover, for making that dream a reality.

Of the 31 members of the rescue squad, nine members live at the Emergency Services Building (Dream Number 1). During the '79-80' year, seven members were Vermont Certified Emergency Medical Technicians, with two also being nationally certified.

A College Fire Department was formed in 1963 at Belknap College in N.H. In 1973, the Department was moved to L.S.C. and became the Lyndon State Fire Department. The Department currently has a 1966 Dodge Truck equipped with a front mount pump, self-contained breathing apparatus, fire hose attachments, and 1000 ft. of fire hose. The department is manned by 17 students, 24 hrs. a day throughout the school year.
